1-6PM

The Blue Vipers of Brooklyn

Old-time jazz, swing and blues of (none other than) The Blue Vipers of Brooklyn, with their witty, bouncy and full of fun songs- conjuring visions of flappers and men in straw-boater hats.

3PM

Screening of Parallel Lines

Award-winning filmmaker Nina Davenport's drive from California to her New York City home in the sudden aftermath of 9/11, searching for the American identity within the people she meets and the points of intersection between loss and meaning, suffering and hope.

Sun, Sep 18

3PM

Steve Elmer, jazz pianist

Brooklyn's own, veteran composer and jazz pianist Steve Elmer is a cat who likes to swing. Says one reviewer, "he is a straightahead player, whose first (and second and third) priority is to swing his ass off."

Sun, Sep 25

3PM

The Rob Crowe Situation

What's the situation? It's The Rob Crowe Situation, a 9-piece band of guitars, vocals, banjo, violins, saxophone and percussion mixed with the sounds of their punky acoustic freeform folk music.

Sun, Oct 2

2PM

Gallery Talk

BWAC member Janet Rothholz conducts a tour of the art and artists in Tales of Breukelen.

3PM

The Wayne Tucker Trio

Soulful trumpeting and a versatile musical palette that ranges from traditional blues and jazz standards, to funk and R&B, with the added bonus of Wayne's original compositions. One of our favorites!

Sun, Oct 9

3PM

Red Orange Morning

Red Orange Morning's music is moody, sad, angry, passionate, and intense - the end result is a rhythmic and melodic collage. We're so glad to have them back!

Sat, Oct 15

1:30PM

The first of two afternoons of short films and videos from all around the planet and beyond! Curators: Nathan Kensinger and Daniel Durning.
